BoomBaby is a community-driven token which aims to be a community for new investors and long term hodlers.

Disclaimer:

The information provided in this whitepaper is in no way a complete analysis on market trends and purchases and does not intend to create contractual obligations in any explicit or implicit manner.

The sole purpose of this whitepaper is to provide initial information for the BoomBaby token launch.

We are aiming for creating a wide community where investors can learn about crypto - away from CEX.

Launch distribution

The initial launch will have 90% of total supply added to Uniswap and this liquidity will be locked. 10% will be transferred to a marketing wallet.

These funds will be used for exchanges, marketing, influencers etc. As much as possible these fund will be traded of the exchange by making custom agreements with new investors.

BoomBaby project

BoomBaby.io aims to be a leading platform for different crypto applications. The main focus is to provide a strong foundations for future development of the project. While this is a true community owned token the initial API development will be created by BoomBabyDev.

The contract has been published and liquidity will be added to the Uniswap exchange. The liquidity will be locked on Unicrypt.network for 100 years.

We aspire to be a multi tool platform for crypto traders and new investors, while providing tools for developers to easily support the project on a long term basis.

Team

The creator is among you all. He created the contract and launched it. Locked the liquidity and have bought back in on the same terms as everyone else.

The developer
@BoomBabyDev

+10 years of experience in coding, company growth and startups.

Roadmap

This roadmap is purely an indication of the initial pipeline. The community is free to engage in any desired projects around the BoomBaby core. Exchanges and influencer will always be a priority but focused in periods.

Final notes

So many projects enters the markets as community-driven and yet there's always some owner that sets the rule for marketing and guidelines of branding. We want to encourage each individual investor to participate as owners and not just holder.
